Global and Indian Perspective

March 22-23, 2018, Hotel The Lalit, Mumbai, India

What is Textile 4.0, and how it is applicable to textile industry globally and to India?

About Conference

The world is at the threshold of a new industrial revolution characterised by artificial intelligence, Internet of Things, next-generation robotics, 3D printing, wearables and gentle engineering, nanotechnology, advanced materials, biotechnology and others. Industry 4.0 is the future of manufacturing technologies and is increasingly important trend of automation and data exchange. This enhanced technology, digital systems and automated processes will make it optimum for manufacturing of quality products. Industry 4.0 includes cyber- physical systems, the Internet of things, cloud computing and cognitive computing which creates what is being defined as a "smart factory".

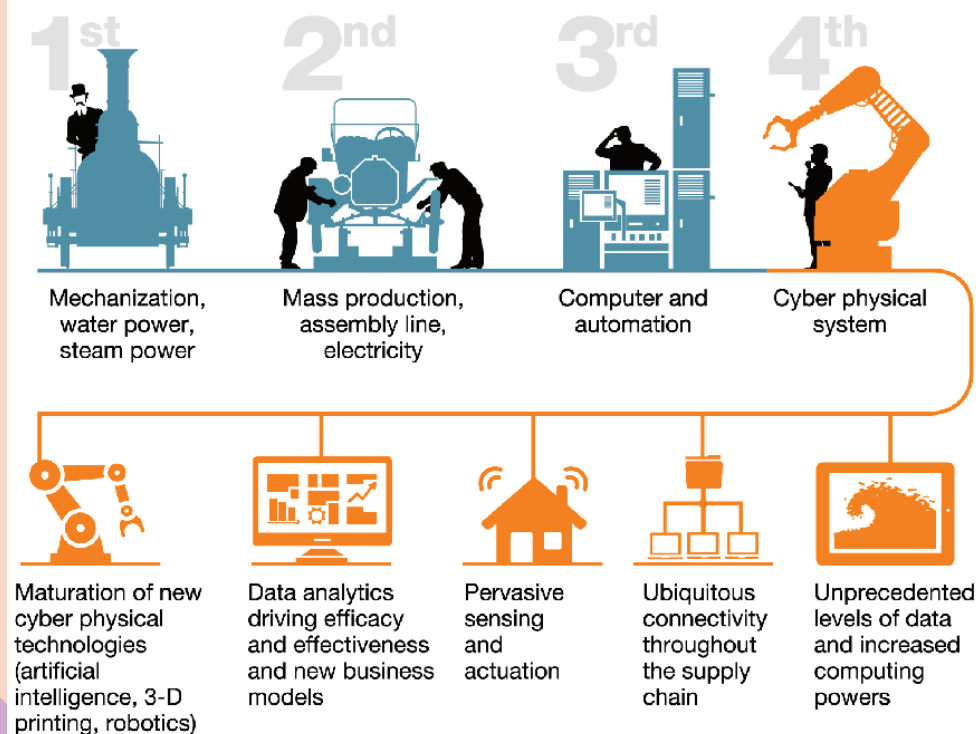

Textile 4.0 is an interpretation and application of Industry Revolution 4.0 in the textiles technology and textile manufacturing sectors across the supply chain in Spinning, Weaving, Finishing and Garmenting. The conference aims to educate how industry 4.0 is shaping up and transforming the global textile business. It will bring together textile manufacturers in all sectors i.e. textile technology, solution providers and all stakeholders across the supply chain. This conference will discuss the major challenges textile businesses are facing in today's digital marketplace and identify practical steps which companies can take to digitalize their value chain.

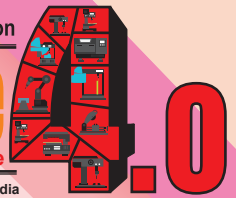

The Textile Association (India), Mumbai Unit is the first to organise such a conference in India/Asia that will help the textile industry to gear up for textile 4.0.
